

http://puyat1981.multiply.com/journal/item/153/Pacita-Abad-eats-Caramel-Cake-in-Batanes?&show_interstitial=1&u=%2Fjournal%2Fitem

Pacita Abad eats Caramel Cake in Batanes

By: Puyat

August 21, 2007

Peeps, this is Fundacion Pacita. A house overlooking the ocean at Philippine's tip of Batanes. At first you'd suspect it's a stone house lost in lonely Scotland but this one's home based.

It's a like a museum but according to my friends there are no curators to shoo you out or guards to frisk you. Famose for it's honest citizens, the Fundacion's gates are even left open for pilgrims to come in to rest and marvel at the beauty of nature right before one's eyes.

The house was built to honor one of Philippines exceptional artist, woman and disciple of the arts, Pacita Abad.

(For more info do visit www.pacitaabad.com)

Pacita born in Basco Batanes is a truly global artist. Pacita had over 40 solo exhibitions at museums and galleries in the U.S., Asia, Europe, Africa and Latin America. She also participated in more than 50 group and traveling exhibitions throughout the world. Pacita's work is now in public, corporate and private art collections in over 70 countries.

In 2004 we lost Pacita to lung cancer but her memory is realized when one visits Fundacion Pacita.